What is the North West LHIN?

The North West LHIN is a non-profit organization that plans health services in Northwestern Ontario. It provides funding to hospitals, community health centres, community support service organizations, long-term care homes, and mental health and addictions agencies that deliver the health services that we need here in Northwestern Ontario.

The North West LHIN invites you to share how you would like to see health care in the future, and explore what changes are needed in the health care system in order to make that future a reality. As part of an exciting new community engagement initiative, the North West LHIN is hosting a community workshop in your community, where participants will be able to share their ideas about what is most important for the future of health care at a local level.

Don't miss this exciting opportunity to connect with the North West LHIN and other community partners and to shape the changes you want to see that will make a difference in your health care journey.
